Happy Holidays!

It is halfway between Christmas and New Years, 2016, and I wanted to put together a fun little printable paper doll to color as my holiday gift to you.

This is Johara, which means jewel in Arabic, and she is a talented and enthusiastic performer who has been building her belly dance wardrobe. She has some glamorous pieces, fusion pieces, and even some work-out wear! To color Johara and her wardrobe, I recommend using colored pencils or gel pens to color in the fine lines.

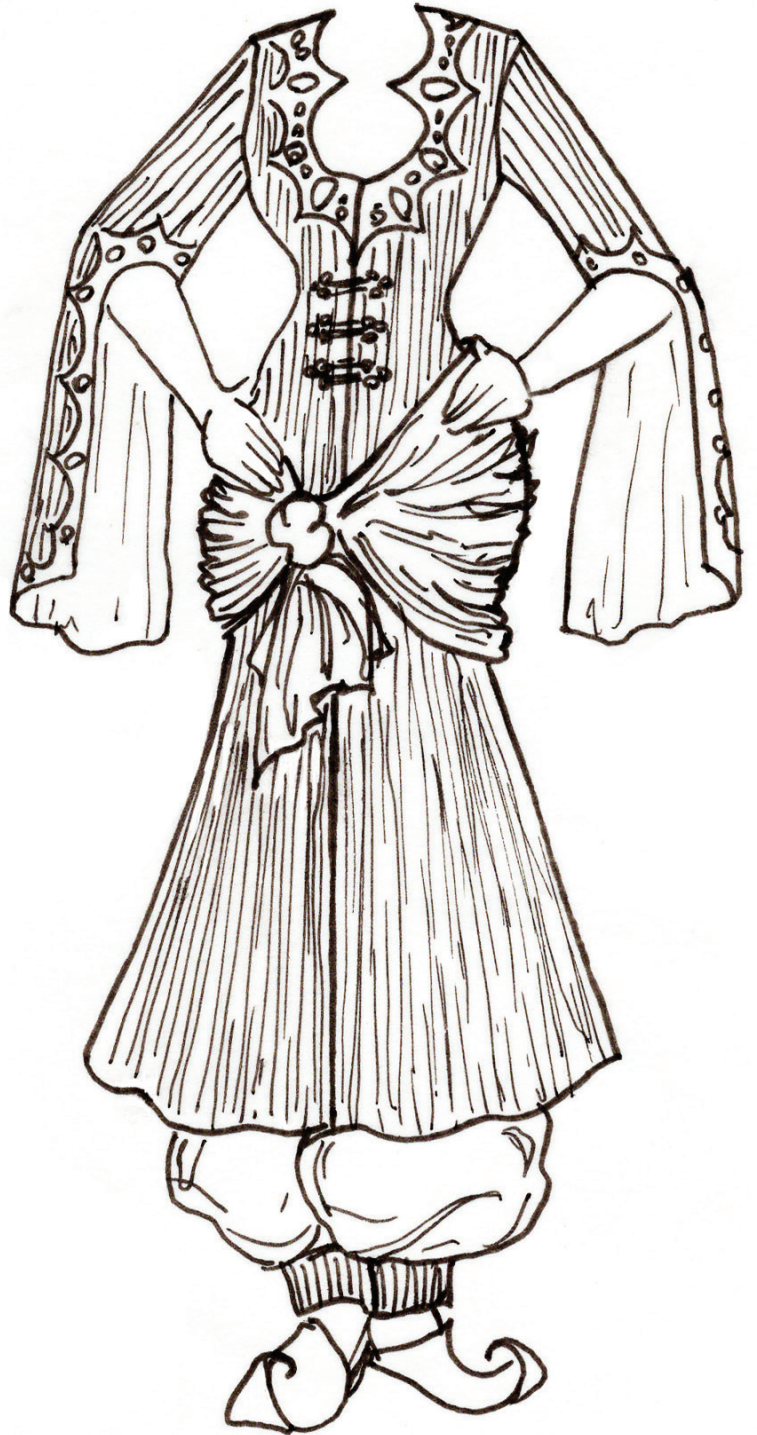

Although this .pdf is sized for US standard letter paper - you can easily resize her to A4. Before printing, select the A4 size and scale to fit. The images will adjust accordingly. If you printer her out and color her and her wardrobe in, please take a photo or a scan and send them to me at the address below so I can see the color and design choices you made!

I hope you enjoy my little holiday gift!
Thank you for your continued support of my blog, books, and ongoing projects,
